

MARCHING ORDER COUNTERMANDED

President Cuts Out Escort Given
Father Sherman.

The South Regarded the March as an Insult and Feeling Was Growing.

REPRESENTATIVES GET MAD

Washington, D. C., May 2.—General satisfaction is expressed by the Southern senators over the prompt action of President Roosevelt in countermarching the Duvall's order providing a cavalry escort for Rev. Father Sherman over the route followed by Gen. Sherman on his famous march to the sea. Senator Bacon of Georgia, said Father Sherman will be welcomed by the people of Georgia, but a cavalry escort would be an insult to the same people.

The source of the order was developed by request of the war department yesterday for verification of the announcement of its existence.

Much unfavorable feeling against the march existed in the South.

Would Stop the March.

Representative Bartlett, of the Missouri district, said that twenty years ago it would have been unnecessary for Father Sherman to have guides to show him the route taken by his father to the sea, as the wreck and ruin wrought by Gen. Sherman and his army bore ghastly evidence of that infamous march.

Representative Livingston, who wore the gray, said: "I would need this armed invasion at the borders of the state and serve notice that Georgia could not thus be violated except by a force large enough to overcome our resistance."

"The troops of one state cannot invade the soil of another state, and neither can the federal troops invade a state without violating the constitution. This is one of the most foolish performances I ever heard of."

"I have wired Gov. Terrell for accurate information about it, and you can be sure that if the home authorities don't stop it there will be a revolution introduced to learn what it means and put an end to it."

KING EDWARD CELEBRATES

Visits Observatory, Wading Through Ashes From the Crater.

Naples, May 2.—King Edward, Queen Alexandra and the Duke and Duchess of Aosta climbed Mount Vesuvius Monday to visit the observatory. The trip to the observatory was made by automobile, and the king and his party were greeted on their arrival by Prof. Matteucci and Frank Perret of Brooklyn, N. Y., his assistant.

The king congratulated both men upon their work and obtained from them an account of the days during which they were prisoners in the observatory while Vesuvius was in eruption, and were momentarily in danger of death. Afterward the party ascended above the observatory, walking through two feet of ashes.

THROWN FROM WAGON.

Young Man Sustains Painful Bruises
In This Way.

Frank Vogt, age 17 years, was painfully injured yesterday afternoon by a fall from a grocery delivery wagon. He was standing in the rear of the wagon when the horse started suddenly and he lost his balance. He fell on his face and hands and both wrists were sprained. His face was also badly skinned.

Young man resided at 1217 South Tenth street but the accident happened in "Fisherville."

Statement of Public Debt.

Washington, May 2.—The April statement of the public debt shows a total loss of cash in the treasury of $984,413,247, an increase for the month of $2,789,809. For April the receipts were $45,092,367 and expenditures $47,925,106. The deficit for the month was nearly $2,000,000. For April last year it was over $9,000,000.

Pushed Out Suez Canal.

London, May 2.—The United States dry dock Dewey pushed out of the Suez canal safely Tuesday. The great docks are being towed to Manila.

The circulation of The Sun for the month of April was 4,018.

TOBACCO GROWERS

TEST THEIR STRENGTH

To Prevent Sale of Crop By Members of Organization of Trust.

Memphis, Tenn., May 2.—The first legal move to test the strength of the Dark Tobacco District Planters' Protective Association of Tennessee and Kentucky in its organized capacity against the Tobacco Trust, was taken Monday afternoon when Charles H. Fort, president, sued for an injunction against S. N. Morrow, a prominent representative of the trust, and C. M. King, a member of the organization, who had sold his tobacco to Morrow.

The bill asks that the completion of the sale be prevented, and that Morrow be restrained from further interference with the affairs of the company. The injunction was granted by Judge C. W. Tyler.

The suit is to blaze the way and establish the legal status of the organization in order to cope with the trust, headed by James B. Duke.

BARBOUX'S IDEA

WOMAN IS VAIN, BUT SHE IS NOT A FOOL.

Parolan Says "Woman Doesn't Need
Emancipation, as She Is Ruler
Now."

Paris, May 2.—The reforming of marriage and divorce laws demanded by certain legal and literary lights in the name of woman's growing emancipation has provoked a remarkable utterance from Marthe Barbox, the famous novelist of the Paris bar.

"Bossuet discovered that it was easier to stop an ass from braying than to prevent a woman from committing follies," said Barbox to a friend with whom he was walking. "Will you tell me why women of today put tape on their heads, and call them hats, and bind their waists with corsets, and make them walk like this?" so saying, the old gentleman gathered up imaginary skirts, stuck out his chin and strutted along in accurate imitation of a comely actress, to the intense and undisguised astonishment of a municipal guard near by.

"Woman's ideas being unfathomable, would you want the law to declare she should be emancipated?" the veteran lawyer continued. "As if a woman would wait for the approval of a slow-footed old legislation! The women are everything now that they want to be; they are clerks, they are merchants, sculptors, leather cutters—everything. They are better writers than men are, and almost as good lawyers. But do you imagine they have ceased to be women?"

"By Jove, no! They still have the secret of making men do what they will: infamies, follies, sometimes even great deeds. So what is the use of legal reforms for their benefit? They would gain nothing, since they have everything now, and they would lose the priceless privilege of thinking themselves ill-used."

AMERICANS VICTORS.

Won the Final Score of the Stadium
Events At Athens.

Washington, May 2.—President Roosevelt today received the following telegram from James E. Sullivan, manager of the American Athletics at Athens:

"The Americans won the final score for the Stadium events: Americans 11; Greeks 6 seconds, 6-3; 75 points; Great Britain, all her possessions, 1 first, 6 seconds, 3 thirds; 33 points. Greece and Sweden tied for third place. Great athletic victory for America."

Killed by an Explosion.

Chicago, May 2.—Two men were killed and several others severely injured by an explosion in the Illinois Steel company's plant in South Chicago.

NO REVOLUTION LIKELY IN FRANCE

May Day Demonstration Held Down by Government.

Soldiers Had to Come to the Rescue of the Police During the Evening.

SERIOUS CLASHES REPORTED.

Paris, May 2.—The long-dreaded May Day failed to bring the revolution which inflammatory journals predicted, but nonetheless it brought scenes of extreme violence. The labor district thousands of troops only controlled with difficulty and central portions of Paris bore the appearance of siege with regiments of infantry and cavalry camped about the Arch de Triomphe, the Bourse, Bank of France and the great railway stations, while military sentinels passed before banks and private establishments.

At no time did the demonstration reach the magnitude of a revolt, and the tumult in which the labor element is struggling for a principle was hopelessly confused with violent agitators, anarchists, revolutionists, roughs and large numbers of the curious.

The workmen never succeeded in forming a procession or even in assembling more than scattered bands. Their chief action was a renouance of several thousand in a labor exchange at which a resolution was adopted not to return to work until the eight hour day shall have been accorded.

The Worst Hours.

The worst hours of the day was towards 5 o'clock when the police practically lost control and were compelled to rely on the mounted troops. The latter forming in lines swept around the Place de la Republique driving the disorderly crowd into the surrounding streets. Most of the mob sought refuge in the Boulevard de Magenta and at Quai des Invalides which became the centers of disorders. Here the trumpets sounded repeated commands to disperse and the cavalry galloped into crowds, trampling and injuring many. A body of foot guards became surrounded by manifestants and was rescued with difficulty by cavalry with drawn swords. Here a considerable number were wounded. By 6 o'clock calm had been restored and most of the troops returned to their barracks.

Throughout the disorders the authorities succeeded in executing their original plan of holding the disorders strictly within the limits of the labor district and not permitting them to pass toward the wealthy commercial and residential sections. The disorder of the workmen however, is still threatening. They claim the police acted brutally and cite many instances of innocent people being beaten and arrested. They declare this was only the beginning of the movement.

Outside of Paris.

Reports from the provinces show there were violent demonstrations at Marseilles, Brest, Bordeaux, St. Etienne, Lyons and Rouen. At Marseilles, processions carrying red flags and creating violent disorders came in collision with troops and a number of persons were injured. At Bordeaux processions paraded the streets singing revolutionary songs and the cavalry charged them wounding many. At Lyons a crowd of manifestants attacked street cars, breaking windows, whereupon the dragons charged the rioters, wounding a large number. There were lesser disturbances at many points.

Later Reports.

Paris, May 2.—Following the disorders yesterday the city was absolutely quiet this morning. Only crowded meetings of workmen at labor exchange attested to a continuance in a tranquil form of the movement for an eight hour workday, which caused the bloodshed yesterday.

More Trouble at Marseilles.

Marseilles, May 2.—Rioting occurred today in connection with the labor trouble. Some striking printers were seriously wounded and several also injured slightly.

Longworth Expected.

Trondheim, May 2.—The authorities expect Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Longworth to be present at the coronation of King Haakon, of Norway.

EDUCATIONAL CONFERENCE.

Lexington People Making Big Preparations to Entertain Visitors.

Lexington, Ky., May 2.—The Southern Educational Conference here, beginning tonight with an entertainment at Sayre Institute by Prof. and Mrs. George J. Hanney, is expected to be one of the largest gatherings of professional educators in years. Preparations have been made by Lexington citizens to entertain all the visitors, homes having been found for them among the people of the city and county. The sessions will be held at the Auditorium in Woodland park, beginning Thursday, when there will be a grand barbecue of the Kentucky fashion.

Governor Beckham of Kentucky, will deliver the address of welcome and other addresses will be made by Robert C. Ogden, president of the conference, and Governor Fink, of Missouri.

There has been but one change in the program, which has been published already. John W. Yerkes, commissioner of internal revenue, will not be able to be present and his place on the program Friday night will be taken by Dr. E. A. Alderman, of Charlottesville, Va., who is one of the most distinguished orators which can be found in all the South, a man of force and eloquence.

JUST FROM FRISCO

MRS. M. A. MCINTYRE AND SON,
MORRIS, RETURN TO PADUCAH.

Endorses the Military Rule and Declares It in Keeping With Requirements.

Mrs. M. A. McIntyre and Mr. Morris McIntyre arrived here this morning at 9 o'clock from San Francisco. They were in San Francisco through out the disaster that visited the city Wednesday, the 18th of April. Their description of the condition of things in San Francisco after the first shock and while the city was burning would indicate that only eye-witnesses can fully appreciate the enormity and horror of the disaster. The sudden elimination of all distinctions of material prosperity, the frenzy of men and women seeing their all swept away; the uncertainty of what might happen next, and the keen pressure of hunger, made a never-to-be-forgotten scene.

Mrs. McIntyre says that the rule of the military authorities was undoubtedly rigid, but she does not believe that it was unnecessarily harsh. The only thing that would restrain men there was the fear of summary death.

Mrs. J. E. Holston and children, married daughter of Mrs. McIntyre, are still in San Francisco.

MRS. DOWIE ELECTED FROM HOME.

Was Forcefully Removed by Dowie's
Attendants Last Night.

Chicago, Ill., May 2.—Ejected from her home at Zion City at dead night by the personal attendants of the first apostle Dowie, to minister to those who wanted to be his bride, Mrs. Jane Dowie sought refuge early today in the home of a friendly deaconess. When Mrs. Dowie asked the privilege of entering her husband's room she was refused by the attendants and on finally forcing her way in was ejected from the house.

A Clash at Brest.

Brest, France, May 2.—A large number of workmen who were on strike resumed work today. Several collisions between the troops and strikers occurred this morning. A number of soldiers were injured with stones. Eight rioters were arrested.

Mother of Four.

Terre Haute, Ind., May 2.—Mrs. John Dison of Grand View, Ill., has given birth to a second pair of twins within eleven months. All four are living. The father is a young farmer.

PRESIDENT TO SEND SPECIAL MESSAGE.

Washington, May 2.—It was announced at the White House today that the president on Friday will send to Congress Commissioner Garfield's report on the oil industry, with a special message commenting on the same. The president is busy today going over the report and preparing his message.

DEATH SENTENCE OF GEO. GAPON

Proof of Execution of Priest
Made Public.

Deemed to Death as Traitor.
Confessed and Violator of Honor of Comrades.

SENTENCE WAS EXECUTED.

St. Petersburg, May 2.—Confirmation of the truth of the story of Gapon's execution was received today. It consisted of a copy of the sentence of death passed by the revolutionary workers' tribunal and was mailed, like Gapon's portfolio, from Berlin to M. Margolin, the former priest's lawyer. The document gave the details of Gapon's offenses.

In a long preamble justifying the execution set forth that the workmen's tribunal had incontrovertible proofs of Gapon's secret relations with various members of political police, whose names are given, to whom he promised to betray the revolutionists if allowed to reopen his organization.

Later, he undertook in behalf of Chief of Secret Police Gerasimoff, to find out and betray to the government a plot to kill the emperor. Witte and Interior Minister Durnovo and opened negotiations with a member of the fighting organization, offering $12,500 for the necessary information and guaranteeing personal security for the traitor from the vengeance of the revolutionists.

The document also lays at Gapon's door the responsibility for the death of Rehehoff, who blew his brains out during an investigation of charges against the Gapon organization, giving a new and more sensational version of the reason for his suicide.

It says Gapon, using his influence over Rehehoff, gave him the revolver and exacted of him an oath that he would kill Nicholas Pogoff, the workman leader who published the disclosures of Gapon's relations with the government and his financial irregularities. Rehehoff on learning the truth of the disclosures committed suicide rather than break his oath.

The preamble further charges Gapon with receiving $45,000 for the benefit of the workmen and of not making any accounting for the sum, and concludes with saying:

"Taken in flagrant delicto, Gapon admitted the truth of all the charges, pleading he acted with the best motives, but having fully weighed his crimes and his defense the tribunal decided that George Gapon was a traitor, spy, provocateur agent, a thief of money belonging to workmen and a violator of the honor of his dead comrades of January 22; and therefore condemned him to death."

"The sentence has been executed."

MADE CONFESSION

Of Wholesale Freight Robberies On the Big Four Road.

Richmond, Ind., May 2.—It developed today that John A. Locke, the prisoner who made the sensational escape from jail here a few days ago had made a confession implicating eighteen employees of the Big Four railroad in wholesale freight robberies. The robberies were committed at various points in Illinois. Eleven indictments have been returned against the men implicated in Coles county, Illinois. The property taken when disposed of aggregated several thousand dollars.

Another Cyclone in Texas.

Alford, Tex., May 2.—At 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon a cyclone passed five miles south. It blew the top off the section house and totally destroyed the house of Jud Parks, killing his mother, the balance of the family being uninjured. Several houses were blown off their foundations at Alford. The depot building was blown to the ground.

Mr. Hecla in Eruption.

Edinburgh, Scotland, May 2.—Steamers which arrived at Leith today from Iceland report that Mount Hecla has been in eruption, ashes being scattered over a wide area. The disturbances, however, were not serious.

New York, May 2.—Democratic leaders are preparing for the next national campaign and are more sanguine of their party's success than they have been for a long time.

SALVATION ARMY TO HOLD GREAT MEETING.

Anniversary Congress Will Include
Benefit for Frisco Sufferers.

New York, May 2.—The Salvation Army has arranged the highest meeting it has ever given outside of London for Sunday evening, May 13 at the Hippodrome, for the benefit of the San Francisco sufferers. This will be a part of its twenty-sixth anniversary congress, which will be held from Friday, May 11, to Wednesday, May 16, inclusive. Commander Evangeline Booth will conduct the big meeting, and it will "sing the song of love and tell the story of the broken heart." This has been done before but will be much extended for the big meeting.

A living cross will be formed as Miss Booth sings, and 260 women, wearing white, will come on the stage at intervals and arrange themselves in the form of a cross. They will be followed by army men in red uniforms, who will follow the cross, and they will be followed by army officers in their dark uniforms, who will form an outer line around the cross.

Sunday afternoon a big open air meeting at which the whole local army will be present will be held in Brooklyn, Monday, May 14, at 3 o'clock, the big steeple settlement house of the army will be opened. The congress will close Wednesday afternoon with a tea to the principal officers.

TARBELL GOES

TO BE FORCED OUT OF THE EQUITABLE'S MANAGEMENT.

New By-Laws to Be Adopted Will Put Ryan-Morton Faction in Control.

New York, May 2.—That the Ryan Morton regime is to be firmly entrenched in its control of the Equitable Life Assurance Society, as evidenced by the new by-laws which the sub-committee of the board of directors has framed and which will be presented to the board for acceptance.

Radical changes will follow the adoption of the new laws, and reports are again in circulation that Clara E. Tarbell, owner of the office of second vice president is about to end.

The most striking change that is proposed centers in the offices held by Mr. Tarbell and George T. Wilson the third vice president. Under the old order these officials are elected by the board of directors and cannot be removed except by the board. The by-laws committee has ordained that both these offices shall be appointive and invests the president of the society with the appointive power.

The office of fourth vice president, formerly held by William G. McIntyre, who has been in exile since the Armstrong committee started its investigation, is to be abolished, according to report.

In event of the board ratifying and confirming the report of its special committee, it will be in order to elect officers for the year, which should have started last February. It is stated that a successor to James Hazen Hyde, former first vice president, will not be elected. The office will remain vacant indefinitely.

Pastor and Mayor in Flight.

Dixon, Ill., May 2.—Recent investigations of the Law and Order league and attacks on Mayor I. F. Edwards' administration brought on a flat fight yesterday between the mayor and Rev. J. F. Newton, of the People's church. The minister was handled severely by the mayor and is badly bruised. A bitter attack on the mayor was made in a local paper by Mr. Newton, who charged Edwards with failure to give proper orders to the police officers.

Big Forgery, Broker Flees.

Cheltenham, May 2.—The forgery of $100,000 worth of improvement bonds of Woods county, Ohio, and the mysterious disappearance of Arthur L. Rich, a prominent broker, became known today. It is believed Rich is now on his way to Honduras, having eluded pursuers by jumping from the window of a railroad car at Dayton, Ohio.

After a Kentucky Bond Co.

Hosion, May 2.—A committee of bondholders has filed suit here asking for the appointment of a receiver for the American Reserve Bond company of Kentucky.

COURT SENSATION

NIPPED IN BUD

Wood-News-Democrat Damage
Suit is Compromised.

Attorney C. K. Wheeler, for Paper,
Declared He Was Muzzle Loaded
for the Issue.

THEN CAME THE UNEXPECTED.

Had the case of Joe Wood against the News-Democrat Publishing company gone to trial this morning in circuit court there would have been "plenty doing" if the speech of Attorney Charles K. Wheeler, acting for the defense, had been followed up by as strong testimony as he claimed to have.

The plaintiff in the action was formerly captain of the Paducah police force, and while in this capacity it is claimed ejected former Editor Louis Hrawnow, of the News-Democrat, from his office one night when the newspaper man came in to secure news that had been refused his reporters. Some rather caustic articles followed, the News-Democrat criticizing the administration severely.

Captain Wood then filed suit against the paper, alleging that one editorial reflected on his character and reputation and was damaging to him. He sued for $10,000.

The case was called this morning and but eight-out of nearly 100 witnesses answered Judge Reed order every witness arrested and the sheriff and deputies started out to bring them in. Meantime the attorneys staked the case.

Attorney J. S. Ross, of the firm of Crisco & Ross, represented Capt. Wood, and stated plainly and briefly the cause for action.

Attorney Charles K. Wheeler, for the defense, followed and his speech caused rather a flurry in the court room.

Attorney Wheeler stated that the paper had started out to weed out the administration. The purpose was to show that the police force was corrupt and that the defense was in a position to, and intended to show this. If the case went to trial, Attorney Wheeler stated that his client would prove that saloons kept open in violation to the Sunday closing law and that this was known to the police. He made many charges against the police force, following the lines of the paper's fight, and stated he stood willing and ready to prove this and support any article that had been published in the newspaper.

The defense had summoned every class of people who came in contact with the police force in any manner or form.

Attorney Wheeler also had Police Judge D. L. Sanders summoned with the records of the police court for two years back, probably to prove that fines were assessed against saloonkeepers for violating the Sabbath and also bawdy house keepers regularly.

After his speech the attorneys held a conference and the case was dismissed, the defendant paying costs except that portion of the costs for plaintiff's witnesses.

League Opens at Paducah, Cairo and Vincennes.

Teams Are in Readiness and Fans Hoping for Favorable Weather.

NEWS OF THE NATIONAL GAME

Manager Lloyd's Statement.
 "I am going into the fight this year with a team 30 per cent stronger than the Indians were last year, and while I can't make any predictions as to where the pennant will go, I will say that my team will put up a hard fight for the rag and we will be in the battle first, last and all the time.

"I have gotten together a bunch of players that I know to be fast in fielding and exceptionally strong in batting. I believe I am 40 per cent stronger in hitters than last year, and with Haas on first and Gilligan on second base, with the rest of my infield including Nipper and Chennault, I believe we will show the fans some infield team work as fast as can be seen in any minor league.

"I have what I consider the strongest bunch that ever donned a Paducah uniform, and unless the other towns show up mighty strong—much more so than last year—we stand a good chance of landing the pennant. I can't make any predictions about any of the other teams because I have not seen them, but will say that we might have underestimated the team in other towns where players we do not know have signed."

The Paducah Indians will be out in force on the reservation tomorrow to scalp the Mattoon bunch. The flag for the start of the race will be dropped at 3:30 o'clock and Mayor D. A. Yelzer will toss the first ball over the plate—or as near the plate as he can get it. If the mayor is not confident that he can really put the ball over the plate, Nipper, Chennault and others will be stationed at different positions about the grandstand to catch the new sphere when the mayor turns it loose.

At 1:30 o'clock the two teams, with Dean's band, city officials, and members of the baseball association, will leave Fourth and Broadway for a trolley ride over the principal streets of the town. The teams will then go to the park and begin warming up for the initial game of the league season.

Weldon South, from the capital city, will pitch the first five innings, and Tadlock, from Illinois, will finish the game. Nipper will catch. The infield and outfield will line up regularly, with McClain in his position in left garden.

The game will be called at the specified hour and McGrath will umpire. His mail has arrived but he remains to be seen yet. He is expected tonight, but the locals do not know from whence he hails.

Friday will be ladies' day and all ladies will on that day be admitted free to see the game.

To Play Here Saturday.

The Metropolis High school team will play in Paducah Saturday morning. The Paducah High school team will play the visitors and expects to duplicate its act of last Saturday in defeating the Illinois boys in a double.

Habit-forming Medicines.

Whatever may be the fact as to many of the so-called patent medicines containing injurious ingredients as broadly published in some journals of more or less influence, this publicity has certainly been of great benefit in arousing needed attention to this subject. It has, in a considerable measure, resulted in the most intelligent people avoiding such foods and medicines as may be fairly suspected of containing the injurious ingredients complained of. Recognizing this fact some time ago, Dr. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., took time by the forelock, as it were, and published broadcast all the ingredients of which his popular medicines are composed. Thus he has completely forestalled all harping critics and all opposition that might otherwise be urged against his medicines, because they are now or known composition. Furthermore, from the formula printed on every bottle wrapper, it will be seen that these medicines contain no alcohol or other habit-forming drugs. Neither do they contain any narcotics or injurious agents, these ingredients being purely vegetable, extracted from the roots of medicinal plants found growing in the depths of our American forests and of well recognized curative virtues. Instead of alcohol, which even in small portions long continued, as in obstinate cases of disease, becomes highly objectionable from its tendency to produce a craving for stimulants, Dr. Pierce employs chemically pure, triple-refined glycerine, which of itself is a valuable remedy in many cases of chronic diseases, being a superior demulcent, antiseptic, antiferment and supporting nutritive. It enhances the curative action of the Golden Seed root, Black Root, Hecate, Cherry bark and Bloodroot, contained in "Golden Medical Discovery." In all bronchial, throat and lung affections attended with severe coughs, as will be seen from the writings of the eminent Dr. Grover Coe, of New York; Bartholow, of Jefferson Medical College, Philadelphia; Scudder, of Cincinnati; F. C. St. John, of Chicago; Hale, of Chicago, and others, who stand as leaders in their several schools of practice, the foregoing agents are the very best. Dr. Pierce's medicines could have chosen to make up his famous "Discovery" for the cure of not only bronchial, throat and lung affections, but also of chronic catarrh in all its various forms wherever located.

$75 FOR THE PRETTIEST YARDS IN PADUCAH.

The Sun offers a prize of $10 cash for the prettiest yard in each of the six wards of Paducah, the residents within a half mile of the city limits being deemed eligible for the contests.

Besides these prizes for the different wards, an extra prize of $15 cash will be given for the prettiest yard in the city at large.

The Sun offers these prizes to stimulate an interest in handsome yards.

The contests will be decided July 15, by a committee to be selected at a later date.

The only condition of the contest is that entries must be subscribers of The Sun.

Theatrical Notes

Metropolitan Burlesquers.

The offering at The Kentucky for Thursday night is the Metropolitan.

This is an entirely new attraction and is reported to excel anything ever attempted in the line of burlesque and vaudeville. The equipment of this company as to wardrobe, scenery and electrical effects shows a lavish expenditure and will please the most critical theater patrons. The opening, a bright snappy burlesque, The West Point Cadets, introduces an unusually large array of bright and clever entertainers and a chorus of 20 selected young ladies, who for voice, beauty of face and figure are the limit.

The closing burlesque scene in a divorce court, is guaranteed to be the greatest laugh producer before the public. Manager of The Kentucky prophesies a packed house for this attraction, as this show turns them away everywhere.

Viola Allen in "The Toast of the Town."

Viola Allen will present Clyde Fitch's play, "The Toast of the Town," at The Kentucky, May 5. The play is one of great dramatic strength, besides being possessed of much highly diverting in the way of comedy. In short, Clyde Fitch at his best. The critic of the Philadelphia Ledger, lately said: "Seldom has Miss Allen been seen in a part that fits her personality so completely as does that of Betty Singleton. The more graceful and winsome moods predominate and in such of these the actress is at her best. As the play progressed, however, there were moments of tense emotion; in which Miss Allen made an impression that was most deep and lasting. The stage pictures were exquisite. Seldom have more artistic settings been seen here than the greenroom of a theatre and the gorgeous hall in green marble, gold and yellow silk hangings, nor more lovely than the cottage garden overlooking the Thames, with its swans, boating parties and view of Windsor Castle in the distance. With the women the costumes will be remembered as a series of 'dramas.' The men carried away impressions of music, lights, flowers and studies from rare prints."

THE CHARITY CLUB

Closing Meeting for the Year, Held This Morning.

The regular monthly meeting of the Charity club was held this morning at 10 o'clock at the Palmer house. It was the final meeting of the club for the season, and routine business was the order of the morning.

The club desires to thank all persons who have contributed during the past winter, especially the Pittsburgh Coal Co., for their liberal donations of coal; Rabbi Kovitch for his kindness in offering Temple Israel for the Elbert Hubbard lecture and Miss Mannheim's recital; Mrs. Ed Bradshaw for her contribution of $5, and the three newspapers, the Paducah Sun, News-Democrat and Register for their kindness showing. The Charity club has disbanded for the summer months, but will resume its work in the fall. It has already accomplished much good but will broaden its work the coming year. If the plan for a free kindergarten is carried out by the club it will mean a wonderful advance step and something that should receive the enthusiastic support of the entire city.

Made Happy for Life.

Great happiness came into the home of S. C. Blair, school superintendent, at St. Albans, W. Va., when his little daughter was restored from the dreadful complaint he names. He says: "My little daughter had St. Vitus' Dance, which yielded to no treatment but grew steadily worse until as a last resort we tried Electric Bitters, and I rejoice to say, three bottles effected a complete cure." Quick, sure cure for nervous complaints, general debility, female weaknesses, impoverished blood and malaria. Guaranteed by McPherson's drug store. Price 50c.

A LEAVE OF ABSENCE GRANTED

City School Superintendent Has Gone to Lexington.

School Board Meets and Transacts Routine Business—Census Report Filed—Other Matters.

AN UNEVENTFUL SESSION.

The school board met in regular session last night with Trustee Wm. Kinney absent and granted Supt. C. M. Leih leave of absence in order that he attend the Southern Educational Conference which will begin its session tomorrow and continue through Saturday. Supt. Leih left this morning to be in attendance on the opening day.

The superintendent's monthly reports show a slight increase in attendance. He recommended that the board take immediate steps toward securing clear desks and titles to all school property. The board has no need to the McKinley school property, the city never having made out the deed. The superintendent also recommended that an annual report of the schools be published in pamphlet form at the close of school each year.

The board directed a communication to Mayor Yeiser to have him make out a deed or have it made out and signed transferring the McKinley property to the school board.

The matter of printing the annual report was referred to a committee.

A petition from the Paducah Construction company asking for the payment of a balance for building the McKinley school was filed. The board will refuse to pay the balance until defects in plastering are remedied. It is being held for this purpose.

Secretary W. H. Pitzer reported the result of the annual census taking as follows:

First ward, 946; Second ward, 1,204; Third ward, 1,024; Fourth ward, 1,124; Fifth ward, 1,203; Sixth ward, 545; grand total, 6,046.

The finance committee's report was read and filed. It shows April 1st $7,218.25 on hand, expended $4,810.86, balance at close of month, $2,397.39. The secretary was instructed to borrow $2,500 for one month to meet expenses.

The monthly pay roll of $1,358.87 was allowed.

Miscellaneous accounts amounting to $283.46 were allowed.

The arrangement committee reported progress in the arrangement of the commencement program.

A proposition from Col. R. G. Caldwell to sell the Longfellow school property for $25,000 at two and a half per cent commission, was rejected. The board understands other propositions which will net the board an even $25,000 over the commission will be made shortly.

The board authorized the purchase of eight revolving maps at $12.95 each.

D. M. Street, who is alleged to owe the schools for tuition for an out-of-town pupil, was reported as refusing to pay the bill, and the board authorized the institution of a suit to recover the amount.

A report from Mrs. R. H. Kelley saying she will immediately remove a model bay window which overhangs the Washington school yard, was filed.

On motion, the board adjourned.

THE BARLOW DEPOT FIRE

Is Attributed to the Carelessness of Tramps—To Be Rebuilt.

J. D. King, special agent of the Louisville division of the I. C., returned this morning from Barlow, Ky., where he had been investigating the cause of the fire which last week destroyed the depot.

Mr. King says he believes that tramps entered the depot, took the pan out of the stove and built a fire in it with waste to smoke mosquitoes out while they slept. He believes, from indications that they left hurriedly on the approach of a train and left the fire which resulted in the burning of the depot.

The loss will amount to $3,000, counting Agent Hughes' furniture, which was lost. The loss is covered as far as the road is concerned by private insurance. The debris is being cleaned away today preparatory to rebuilding.

AUSTRIAN ASTHMA CURE.

A Remedy From Austria That Will Permanently Cure Catarrh, Asthma and Hay Fever.

New York, May 1.—The thousands who suffer from asthma, catarrh and hay fever will be glad to learn that competent physicians of the Austrian dispensary will treat their cases at home. The charge for the asacetic method of treatment, which is the only method known to scientists that will effect a permanent cure, has been made nominal, only two dollars a month.

Hay fever and cold sufferers who wish to avoid any symptoms of these maladies this coming season, should commence taking asacetic six weeks in advance of the expected attack. New literature on this subject will be mailed free of cost to all who address The Austrian Dispensary, 22 West Twenty-fifth street, New York City.

MUCH IN FEW WORDS.

Lightning struck and burned a hotel at New Moorefield, Ill. The inmates barely escaped, many being shocked.

Much damage was done in and about Dayton, O., by a wind and rain storm in which there was much lightning.

A steamer having on board nine men and twenty excursionists foundered off Guernsey, Channel Islands, and four lives were lost. Others barely escaped.

The national congress of mothers, set to be held in Los Angeles, Cal., on the 7th, has been indefinitely postponed.

Secretary Bonaparte, of the navy, is ill at his home in Baltimore and is believed to be threatened with pneumonia.

RICH WERE POOR IN SAN FRANCISCO

A Wealthy Banker of the City in the Bread Line.

Remnants of Costly Articles Found in Piles of Ashes on Lawn of St. Francis Hotel.

PITIFUL SIGHTS ON THE STREET

San Francisco, May 2.—Standing in any of the many bread lines, one may see curious and diversified humanity in all its forms. One man, richly dressed and known all over California as one of the wealthiest bankers of the United States, stood in his place, supporting himself with his gold-headed cane.

When he reached the head of the line, and the soldiers ordered him roughly to take his portion of bread, the old gentleman, with a smile of satisfaction, took two loaves under his arm and stepped contentedly along the street toward his ruined home. He was I. W. Heilman, president of more banks and trust corporations than any other man on the Pacific coast. He laughed as he said that to receive those two loaves of bread gave him more satisfaction than to sell a whole city street railroad.

Hiding Her Jewels. Trudging down Market street, her skirts dragging, her sealskin mink, her left hand tied up in a handkerchief, her face beamed with foot and perspiration, a handsome woman was overtaken by a man who had hired a delivery wagon to carry him to the ferry with the single suit case he had managed to save from the fire.

He offered the woman a seat, but she shrank from him with a strange terror. When he said he was a newspaper man, the weary woman simply leaned toward him with a sigh of relief, and the young fellow lifted her into the wagon.

As they proceeded to the ferry, she told him her story. She adorned her left hand, glittering, blazing in a flood of white light, were diamonds—men's rings and ladies' rings—crowded on every finger, and even her thumb was tied with thread that none should drop off. She opened a small handbag which she carried and showed him a fortune in beautiful jewelry and precious stones.

Afraid to ask for assistance, for fear she might be robbed, or worse, she was making her way slowly down toward the ferry over the bricks and the cobble and piles of rubbish, panting with fear and exhaustion.

How to Clear a Street.

One way to clear a street is to put a man at the end of the block with a gun, loaded, and put another man at the other end of the block with a gun, loaded, and then for the sergeant to go down through the trap and make every idle man in it turn to and work like blazes throwing brick.

This method has been pursued many times by the guards in clearing Market street. In one of those rat-traps a man, known far and wide as the handsomest police chief in the United States, walked unsuspecting. When he reached the burly sergeant, he was told to "get busy." He attempted to explain that, owing to his wealth and position, he never did any work but the explanation seemed to jar on the sensibilities of the sergeant.

He made one determined motion with his bayonet, and the handsomest and richest police chief in the United States threw bricks so fast that a friend who came with a governor's pass in his hands had great difficulty in persuading him to quit, even though the sergeant gave his consent to the change.

Pathetic Piles of Ashes.

Some pathetic little piles of ashes are scattered over Union Square. Here and there on the grass are little bundles of sheet iron and hoops that are all that remain of some lady's trunk or jewel box. Most of them came from the St. Francis Hotel. Owners had dragged them to the lawn, thinking they might be safe there, and when they found they must be opened they took whatever of value they contained. Then they began their onward march for another refuge.

Beautiful table silver, and the fine china painting outfit of some lady of fashion can be seen in some of these little parks. Hand-painted dishes, with evidences of care and artistic work, lie broken in the ashes. Many a lady who occupied an elegant hound in the St. Francis might identify her belongings in some of the white remains of Union Square, could she reach the place and search for them.

RAILROAD NOTES.

The Shops Began New Month With Much Work.

Mr. J. D. King, special agent for the Louisville division of the I. C., was in Paducah yesterday looking after the railroad's interests in the movements of the carnival company. John A. Hill, of St. Louis, chairman of the joint protective board of the Brotherhood of Railway Carmen, left Tuesday for Louisville on business and will not meet with the local lodge until his return some time this week. He is being entertained here by Mr. Quincey Wallace, local chairman and secretary of the board.

The local I. C. wrecker was sent to Belknap, Ky., a few miles above Eddyville, this morning to replace several derailed freight cars.

The new month opened yesterday in railroad circles with every bright prospect. The shops are well supplied with work and a full force with regular hours is being worked.

CHEAPER FARM LAND.

Southwest Offers Best Opportunities for Settling Homes.

Many farmers in the Northern and Eastern states are selling their high priced lands and locating in the southwest. Many who have been unable to own their homes in the older country are buying land in the new country.

Unusual opportunities exist along the lines of the Missouri Pacific-Iron Mountain Route. The rich, alluvial, delta lands and river bottom lands of Southeast Missouri, Eastern Arkansas, Louisiana and Texas, capable of producing 60 bushels of corn a bale of cotton, 4 to 6 tons of alfalfa, 150 bushels of potatoes, and other grains, vegetables and bay crops, can be bought for $7.50 to $15.00 per acre. When cleared and slightly improved will rent for $4.00 to $6.00 per acre cash.

Uplands more rolling, lighter soil, adapted to fruit growing—peaches, pears, plums, grapes, berries—also melons, tomatoes and other vegetables, can be bought for $5.00 to $10.00 per acre in unimproved state. Many places with small clearings and some improvements can be bought very cheap.

This is a fine stock country. No long winter feeding! Free range, pure water, mild climate. A healthy, growing country, with a great future.

Write for map and descriptive literature on Missouri, Arkansas, Louisiana, Texas, Kansas or Indian Territory. Very cheap rates on first and third Tuesdays of each month. Address:

ANOTHER GIFT FROM GOVERNMENT

Will be Sent to the People of San Francisco.

War Department to Restore Part of Appropriation Expended Out of First Donation.

THE PRESIDENT TO EXPLAIN.

Washington, May 2.—In the Senate yesterday Gallinger brought up the question of the disposition of the $2,500,000 voted by congress for the relief of the California earthquake sufferers, saying that Tillman had stated in the committee there seemed to be some misapprehension on the question.

Allison, chairman of the committee on appropriations, explained that two appropriations had been made aggregating $2,500,000 but that about $1,200,000 had already been expended by the secretary of war before the first appropriation of one million had been made. Unfortunately, the call for help had come in the last quarter of the fiscal year when appropriations for the purchase of supplies for the war department were well nigh exhausted, rendering it necessary to make a prompt refund of the money used. He added that only about $500,000 of the total sum appropriated remains unexpended but said that every dollar would be used for the benefit of California people who needed help.

Perkins had read a telegram today sent by Secretary Taft to Philan, chairman of the San Francisco relief committee explaining the situation in detail. The action of the government had aroused the admiration and gratitude of California people.

No further action was taken.

In a few days President Roosevelt will send to congress a message explaining the attitude of this government toward contributions from foreign countries for the benefit of the sufferers by earthquake and fire in San Francisco.

The precise purport of the message was not disclosed, but it is understood it will deal with the difference between contributions between foreign countries made to this government and those from the same source made directly to the people of San Francisco.

WORKS WONDERS

A Wonderful Compound, Cures Piles, Eczema, Skin Itching, Skin Eruptions, Cuts and Bruises.

Donn's Ointment is the best skin treatment, and the cheapest, because so little is required to cure. It cures piles after years of torture. It cures all kinds of eczema. It cures all skin itching. It cures skin eruptions. It heals cuts, bruises, scratches and abrasions without leaving a scar. It cures permanently. Paducah testimony proves it.

Mrs. Annie Richardson, living at 320 South Third street, says: "I have been troubled with eczema for a year or more. At times it was very sore and itched badly. I tried a great many ointments and salves of various kinds. I thought some of them were going to make a permanent cure but in a short time it would break out as bad as ever. When I saw Donn's Ointment advertised I made up my mind to give it a trial. I obtained a box at Alvey & List's drug store and began its use. It proved itself to do all that is claimed for it. It made a complete cure and not up to the present time I have not noticed any signs of its return."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Daily Thought.

"The way to reach or attain to anything is to bend oneself toward it with all one's might."

IS JEROME A DODGER?

There is an intimation if not a direct charge that District Attorney Jerome, of New York City, has blocked the attempts to indict the financiers of the Gotham city who are charged with having misused the funds of the big insurance companies. These very significant statements are culled from New York telegrams:

"An explanation by the April grand jury as to why it had not acted in the insurance cases developed this fact today that that body had called upon the district attorney for the evidence in his possession, and that he had advised them to leave insurance tasters for the special grand jury to be empaneled next week."

"It also came out that Mr. Jerome had advised the grand jury that the decision would be handed down by the appellate division in the case of George W. Perkins on Friday next. The grand jury quoted Mr. Jerome as saying:

"If the five judges of that court sustain Justice Greenbaum and declare that campaign contributions constitute larceny we shall be obliged to call Cornelius N. Bliss and Secretary Cortelyou to learn from them what corporations contributed to campaign funds, and indict the officers of the corporations. As a matter of fact that decision would involve the chief officers of every great financial institution in this country."

"When this statement was read it was said that Recorder Goff told the jury it had failed in its duty in allowing Mr. Jerome to persuade it not to go into the insurance investigation, and then administered what is regarded as a severe reprimand to the district attorney by saying to the jurors:

"It would not be the truth for me to say that you performed your whole duty. Nevertheless you have rendered a signal service in accentuating the unequivocal responsibility which now rests upon the district attorney. I appreciate fully the difficulty which would beset an investigation of this character by the grand jury unless you were aided earnestly by the co-operation of the district attorney, your legal adviser, whose duty it is to prefer evidence formulated and presented to the grand jury. Whenever a public duty plainly devolves upon an official or an authority, the way to perform that duty is to do it and not delegate the performance of it to somebody else."

According to the same information, says the high court, he could add to the list of the men of insurance who had been considered only a dodging of the question. He says, however, the matter is to come before the grand jury this month.

Jerome needs to indict the financiers if he would stand before the public as not guilty of blocking the indictment of the men who were so grievously charged in the late insurance investigations. This month will tell what he proposes doing.

In the park of the noted Helle Meade homestead near Nashville, Tenn., is a herd of from 250 to 400 deer. The growth of the capital of Tennessee and the desire to sell the homestead, to divide the estate among heirs, makes it necessary that some disposal of the deer be made at once. It has been proposed by the Nashville Banner that the generous public buy the herd and turn it loose in the woods of the state. While the animals must be worth several thousand dollars, or would be if sold for food, the trustee of the property has offered to take $600 for the entire herd if they are to be set free, as proposed. This is why the Banner has started the move it is pressing and it heads the list of the suggested subscription with $25. The paper thinks the people of the state would profit greatly by the release of the herd especially as it is well protected by law, or would be in a manner. The hunters of the state will no doubt be quick to respond to the Banner's move.

The New York legislature passed and Gov. Higgins signed all the insurance laws recommended by the Armstrong committee which investigated the scandals and made the suggestion contained within the new laws to prevent a repetition of the evils uncovered. It is now up to the authorities of the state to enforce these laws without favor or delay, and the people of the country at large will look to them to do these things. If there should be any tardiness in this work the people will remain just as suspicious as they are now and will do their life insuring with companies having their homes in other and more particular states. The existence of laws is not all the people have asked for and will continue to ask for; they want laws which will punish and which are enforced because they do punish any guilty of rascality of any kind.

The national elections in France begin next Sunday. This fact has much to do, no doubt, with the tolerance shown the strikers in Paris just at present, for each of these idle workmen is a voter. But there will be no revolution in the European republic, for the government is not so disposed to temporize with the disturbing element as the office seeking factions of the towns where the strikers abide.

The folly of the idea is this made clear by the St. Louis Globe-Democrat: "Another movement has been started to keep postmasters from dominating the conventions. A postmaster ought to be satisfied with his office, and let other persons do the scheming to unhorse him."

The rate bill has the Democrats worse divided than it has the Republicans. The former endeavored to get together in a caucus but couldn't do so. Since then they have not even attempted to call a caucus. They will have to wait and then their "spread" will be made clear.

Dowie is holding the Shiloh fort in Zion City and his wife is an ont-onst therefrom—bounced out by his attendants and no doubt by his orders. Dowie it becomes clearer day by day is a wolf in sheep's clothing.

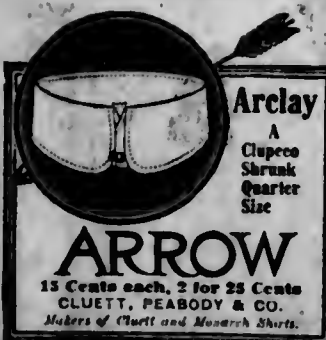

The president promised the country another special message. This time Garfield's report on the oil trust is to be his subject.

France's feared revolution didn't even put out a first-class mob.

A CARLOITE IN PADUCAH.

His Observations as Given to a House Paper.

The Cairo Citizen of the 30th ult. contains the following item, all of which is correct except the reference to Paducah's wholesale business and that of his city:

"City Clerk R. A. Hatcher returned today from Paducah, Ky., where he has been visiting for several days. Mr. Hatcher reports having had a fine time. The city clerk contends that there are not a more hospitable lot of people to be found on earth than the Paducah people, and they spare no pains or expense in showing their guests a good time; seemingly they cannot do enough for a person."

"Mr. Hatcher thinks Paducah has Cairo outclassed as a place of beauty and in point of size and having much more the appearance of a city. However the city clerk says that Cairo has the heat of Paducah on the whole sale business and on baseball. Paducah, he says, admits that we have them on the wholesale business, but no Paducahan white or black, young or old, rich or poor, ill or well, will ever admit that Cairo has a better ball team. Oh! no."

"The city clerk was shown all over the city and inspected the fine brick and bitulthle streets. He says that nearly every street in Paducah is either already paved or is being paved at the present time."

The Damrosch Orchestra.

The Editor of The Sun:

Judging from conversation the writer has had with a number of our citizens in regard to the Damrosch concert Saturday night, our people do not realize the importance of such an affair. This is a matter much to be deplored and is enough to discourage our musicians and musical clubs, who have labored so much to create a taste for the best in music.

There has been no organization heard in Paducah that could in any way compare with the New York Symphony orchestra, and for this reason the writer feels that a few words in advance might serve to set our people thinking how favored we are.

Mr. Charlton (the manager) encouraged by the success of the Hampton recital (Mr. Bishop's management) judged that our people were a music-loving folk, and decided to give us this "fill-in date" between Nashville and St. Louis. If, as it should be, a large audience is in attendance at this concert, he will feel justified in sending similar attractions in the future.

Mr. Walter Damrosch is known wherever music is known as a pre-eminent musical conductor and composer, and among his orchestra he furnishes some of the foremost teachers in New York City. As an instance of the standard of excellence he upholds in his organization, he has imported this season, five eminent musicians from France to augment the orchestra.

Suffice it to say that a body of 60 trained musicians under the direction of a world-famous conductor is an event the importance of which it is hard to imagine. We should be thankful to Mr. Roberts for giving us this opportunity. MUSICO.

Gun Club Shoot.

The Paducah Gun club will have a regular weekly shoot at Wallace park tomorrow. An expert now visiting in the city will be present. The shoot is to begin at 1:30 o'clock as all who desire can also attend the ball game, which begins at 3:30.

Sanitation Hints.

Good sanitation for 1906 should be your motto.
Clean your premises, keep them clean and sprinkle with lime.

Screen your doors and windows and keep out the housefly, the most dangerous of pests. It carries disease and infection.
The most effective money spent in advertising Paducah will be that spent in cleaning and draining it. Every citizen can help to do this, in their own way.

No mosquitoes, no malaria.
A clean city no danger of yellow fever and typhoid.
A Central Park for a good morning breath.

TRAFFIC TIED UP.

Not a Pound of Ore, Coal or Grain Being Handled at Cleveland.

Cleveland, O., May 2.—Every member of the International Longshoremen, Marine and Transport Workers' Union employed on boats and docks of the Lake Erie and the Ohio River quit work at midnight Sunday night, and today a pound of ore, coal or grain was being handled in the port of Cleveland. The same condition exists in practically every Lake Erie port.

Every tug in the harbor was tied up this morning. The licensed tugboat associations are affiliated with the longshoremen, as are the firemen on the tugs, and not a screw on a union tug turned after midnight last night. In the port of Cleveland 4,000 men are directly affected, 1,000 of whom are seamen. About 600 laborers went out on the Cleveland and Pittsburgh dock alone.

Train crews and innumerable railway officials will be thrown out of work because of the stoppage of the coal traffic. It is estimated that if the strike lasts for one month 30,000 men in Cleveland alone will be thrown out of work.

High Tension of Modern Life.

President Roosevelt in his inaugural address said that "modern life is complex and intense." "Sincere" was his former definition, which he made so popular that it became a classic like Mr. Cleveland's "innocent desirability." Mr. Roosevelt is right. Modern business and social life are "both complex and intense" and under the strain of living one's muscles, ligaments and nerves may get keyed up to a degree of tension such that there is no unloading them in the brief time afforded for rest. People get so tired they can't sleep. How many people know so well the modern feeling of tension! Druggists no longer from it, but since the tired body cries out in its stress for any artificial support, either stimulant or sedative, drug habits are easily formed at such periods, if once indulged persistently. There is but one treatment that will relax the high tension of modern life and that gives its patients prompt, adequate, natural and whole some rest from the first treatment—Osteopathy. It is usually regarded as a sovereign cure for sleeplessness.

I should like to talk to you personally about osteopathy and what it is doing for suffering humanity.

A sane, rational treatment, it is appreciated more and more every day.

For private consultation, call phone 1407 Dr. G. R. Frouge, 516 Broadway.

Elopers Wed in Metropolis.

Judge Thomas Lizzett, of Metropolis, married the following eloping couples today: Charles E. McCab and Miss Emma E. Moss, of Woodville, and John T. Johnson, an employee of one of the telephone companies of Paducah, and Miss Jessie L. James, of Paducah. The latter couple went down on the Cowling today and returned this afternoon, being accompanied by D. Sanford.

To Be Held At Rest This Afternoon.

The body of Mrs. Elizabeth A. Johnson arrived from St. Louis this morning at 7:45 o'clock and was conveyed to the residence of Mr. Charles Johnson, a son, on Clark street, near Fourth.

The funeral was conducted this afternoon from the residence, services by Rev. W. E. Cave, with interment at Oak Grove.

RIVER NEWS

River Stages.

Cairo	28.0	0.8	fall

Cincinnati	21.3	1.6	rise
Evansville	12.7	0.2	fall
Florence	3.5	1.1	fall
Johnsboro	1.6	0.2	fall
Louisville	7.3	0.4	fall
Mt. Carmel	5.0	0.2	fall
Nashville	9.5	0.2	rise
Pittsburg	3.6	0.7	fall
Harris Island Dam	6.1	0.1	fall
St. Louis	21.0	...	St'd
Mt. Vernon	12.5	0.6	fall
Paducah	15.9	0.9	fall

The river at this point is falling steadily. The gauge registered 15.9, a fall of .9 in last 24 hours.

The Charlotte Hockley, which has been lying at the foot of the wharf, boat unloading repairs, will leave Saturday for Cairo.

The Sallio will pass up from the Tennessee river tomorrow afternoon late with the Chicago excursion party for St. Louis.

The Dick Fowler is in charge of Mr. Given Fowler as temporary captain in place of Captain Crider resigned. It made the regular trip to Cairo this morning.

The Hutton was a little late at river but will get out this afternoon for Nashville.

The towboat Jim T. Duffy came in from the Tennessee river yesterday with the leaving today for the same river.

It will be Friday evening before the Georgia Lee passes here for Cincinnati. The Peters Lee for Memphis will pass down Saturday morning.

The Clyde leaves at 6 p. m. for the round trip up the Tennessee river with a good business.

The Kentucky is due here tomorrow night from the Tennessee river, lying over until Saturday afternoon before leaving on the return trip.

The Joe Fowler is the Evansville packet today.

The steam launch which is scheduled to run from Salem, O. to Pittsburgh and thence back to the mouth of the Illinois river and through the canal at Chicago to Lake Michigan is to make a trip to Cleveland, where the trip will end and the boat shipped home by rail. The boat is 22 feet over all.

Considerable quantities of coal at Pittsburgh could not be gotten ready for the rise now coming on. It struck them Friday and there was a great hustling among the crews, but the best they could do was to get several tons ready for Saturday departure, leaving much to be held for the next rise. Over 2,000,000 bushels are coming down.

The Evansville Courier says: "The river question along the Ohio river is assuming more serious proportions every day. For two or three weeks all of the Louisville and Evansville packets have been delayed a day in making up crews at Louisville and then several additional hours during the trip down on account of desertions at most every landing. A week or so ago the Cincinnati boat began to have trouble and now the Cincinnati has reached local waters."

River forecasts: The Ohio at Evansville, not much change during the next 24 or 36 hours, then rise for several days. At Mt. Vernon will continue falling during the next 36 hours. At Paducah and Cairo, will continue falling during the next two or three days. The Tennessee at Florence, not much change during the next 36 hours. From Riverport to below Johnsonville, will rise during the next 36 to 48 hours. The Mississippi from below St. Louis to lightly above Cairo, no material change during the next 36 hours.

The automobile club meets next Tuesday night in the office of Mr. Henry Aron to discuss plans and the business pertaining to the club.

WOMAN BITTER MURDERED.

Judge Sanders Assesses a Round Fine Against One.

In the city court this forenoon Will Wade, white, who struck a woman named McKinney in Mechanicsburg several days ago, was fined $50 and costs. Wade and several others including Dennis Treutman, got into a difficulty.

George Henderson and Sarah Pope, white, who also participated in the above breach of the peace, were fined $5 and costs for the part they took.

Leonard Wilson, white, was dismissed of the charge of breach of the peace, and Frank Crowwell, white, fined $20 and costs. They got into trouble over their wives.

Henry Buck and Mike Gallagher, white, were fined $5 and costs each for permitting their cows to run at large in the city.

ADVERTISING THE CITY.

People and Pleasant Events

Mathews Musical Club's Reception.

The reception to be given by the Mathews Musical club to Miss Zudie Harris of Louisville, after the Danrosch concert on Saturday night, is an especially happy thought of this very clever club. It will be made a delightful occasion by the club members, each of whom can invite one guest, and it is very fitting that Paducah should entertain this socially so notable a visitor.

Miss Harris will be in Nashville with the New York Symphony orchestra on the Friday night before coming here, and already many entertainments are being planned for her stay in that city. Nashville society will vie in doing the brilliant Kentucky musician special honor in a social way.

Miss Leigh to Return to Paducah.

Miss Ora V. Leigh, who for several months has had an editorial position on the Salt Lake Telegram, has accepted a position on the News-Democrat with which she was formerly connected, and will return to this city to make her home. This is good news to Miss Leigh's friends in Paducah who are legion. She is a clever and versatile newspaper woman and had "made good" in her new home, but she prefers Paducah to the west and is coming back ahead of homecoming week.

Calio Party Coming for Danrosch.

A party of 25 will come from Calio to attend the Danrosch concert here on Saturday evening at the Kentucky theater. Miss Emma Woodward, a prominent musician and music teacher of Calio, is arranging the party which will include the prepared representative music lovers of that city, who are evidently an fait in the importance of an event so notable as the coming of the New York Symphony orchestra to Paducah.

Mr. Will Crow and family, who have been visiting Mrs. Crow's relatives in the city, left this morning for a week's visit in Wickliffe, and will then go to Los Angeles, where they reside.

FIRE LAST NIGHT

GLASS GROCERY IS PARTLY DESTROYED AT EARLY HOUR.

Timely Discovery by Persons Doubtless Saved the Building From Destruction—Loss $1,500.

The D. C. Glass grocery at Eleventh and Madison streets, was discovered by fire last night shortly after 9 o'clock, and the loss will amount to about $1,500 to the building and stock.

The building is owned by Friedman, Keller & Co., and the stock by Glass. The building was damaged $500 worth, with full insurance, and the stock about $1,000, partly insured.

The fire originated in the rear of the frame store house and spread rapidly. It was first discovered by parties going to the carnival on the Madison street car. An alarm was turned in from box 14, at Tenth and Madison streets, and the department answered quickly. The work of the firemen was good and the flames were prevented from spreading to the front of the house and to the adjoining residences, dangerously near.

Several cans of kerosene and gasoline exploded in the fire and sent flames many feet high.

The origin of the fire is undetermined, but is supposed to have been caused by rats in hay, the fire originating in the hay and feed room in the rear.

DON'T LIKE THE LAW.

Would-be Property Destroyers to Condemn a Pennsylvania Statute.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., May 2.—Aroused by the shooting of 17 men by the state constabulary at Mt. Carmel, E. C. Copeland and W. C. Pinnegar, delegates representing the foreign-born mine workers will introduce, at the coming Scranton convention, resolutions denouncing the state law permitting that mines be guarded by troops. An effort will be made to enlist every union worker in the state in the movement.

Populace is Quiet.

Mount Carmel, Pa., May 2.—Thirty-two troopers of state constabulary left Sayre colliery this morning and paraded through the streets on horseback. The principal streets are patrolled by a detachment of troopers held in reserve at colliery in case of trouble. No disorder is reported and none is thought likely. The populace is quiet.

CREDIT PLAN FAVORED.

It Will Be Presented to the President Soon.

San Francisco, May 2.—A plan by which the federal government may lend credit for rebuilding of the city has strong supporters. The plan was presented to Secretary McCall and he will lay it before the president on return to Washington.

The cutting off of provisions from able bodied men has forced five hundred to seek work for which they get two dollars a day cleaning debris from the streets.

The council has decided to allow saloons to open from 8 a. m. to 7:30 p. m.

White is Really Out.

St. Petersburg, May 2.—The statement is made today that Count Witte has resigned the position of premier and that M. G. Gornyeykin, will be named his successor. Gornyeykin was formerly minister of interior department.

WANTS HELP OF ALL.

Old Prosecutor Will Push Suits Against the Standard.

Toledo, O., May 2.—In an interview today on the filing of the outer suits against the Standard Oil trust and 17 railroads in the state, Prosecutor "Wheeler" said:

"The suits will be justified, I have opened the fight, after this deliberation, I want every public-spirited citizen to get into the fight with us. Any citizen or independent producer with a grievance should come and help us. I ask them to help me."

"A concerted action will accomplish more than we can do alone. It is a long fight, if we succeed in establishing the jurisdiction of this court."

Completed His Second Round.

Rev. J. W. Blackard, president of the Paducah District of Methodist churches, completed his second round of quarterly conference yesterday with the one for the Woodville circuit held at Bandana. A very satisfactory condition of all the charges is reported, both spiritually and financially and many of the churches are making substantial improvements. Dr. Blackard is a fine presiding elder and has his work well in hand. He will have the Paducah district in a fine condition by the annual conference in November.

Dr. Blackard appointed Rev. E. C. Deer, of Calvert City, to fill a vacancy in the Milburn, until the annual conference, Rev. I. H. Stephens who had the place having been transferred back to the Baltimore conference which held its session in March.

Conditions Unchanged.

Work on those buildings being built by the contractors who signed the new wage scale goes on unhindered, but the carpenters working under the contractors who failed to sign agreement are still out today. It is understood that no new developments in the conflict of yesterday have occurred today.

Hickman People in "Frisco." Hickman, Ky., May 2.—Hickman was represented at San Francisco at the time of the earthquake. Roy and Arch Hertzwick, sons of Otto Hertzwick, were in the city at the time. Much uneasiness was felt about them at first, but a telegram has been received stating that they escaped unhurt. Their place of abode was destroyed and all their personal belongings. Just across the bay at Berkeley the two granddaughters of Mrs. McCutcheon, Misses Jennie and Ethel Parker, were attending college. A message was received that they were safe. Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Henderson and children, who were in California on a pleasant trip are reported safe.

Mr. J. K. Hendrick is expected back from Murray, Ky., tonight. Mr. Wm. Marble will be in Eddyville the last of this week.

AN INVITATION.

Our new exchange has been completed and the public is respectfully invited to visit, the operating rooms between the hours of 9 a. m. and 6 p. m. Sundays excepted.

Our switchboard is the most modern up-to-date board in the south and its expense has been spared to secure the latest inventions and improvements known to the telephone art which is a guarantee of rapid service to our subscribers.

We employ more than 75 operators to operate this switchboard and more than this number of other employees to maintain lines and install new subscribers.

We will take pleasure in showing all visitors through the plant.

There was another good fall of rain last night, and there was also some wind and some lightning. Today has been cloudy and delightfully pleasant and also slightly threatening. The dust has not only been settled by the rains the past few days, but the farmers have been favored with a good tobacco season.

Site for New County Farm.

The fiscal court committee this morning purchased ten acres of ground from J. L. Adams for $500. As soon as deeds can be made out the committee will prepare to erect the new building. The property is located on the Lovelaceville road two miles from Wallace park, opposite Mt. Kenton cemetery. The money to purchase the ground and to erect the building was obtained from the sale of the old farm and house.

Oldest Woman Known Thought God Had Forgotten Her Because Death Didn't Claim Her.

Uniontown, Pa., May 2.—Mary McKittrick, aged 108, so far as known the oldest woman in America, committed suicide at the home of her son, Luke McKittrick, an octogenarian, near this city, by cutting her throat with a carving knife. She had been in ill health for several weeks and her mind had failed. She declared God had forgotten her and had neglected to call her, although all those she knew in her girlhood and womanhood before the oldest of old men and women now living were born, had all gone to their last home.

Mrs. McKittrick was born in County Kildare, Ireland, March 17, 1798. The fact of her birth is duly recorded in the parish registry and the authenticity of her claims to being one of the oldest if not the oldest person in America are well established. She remained in Ireland until a very old woman. Her children had all emigrated to this country many years before, had reared families and had died of old age. All the people she had known had died, and she was left alone in the old home in county Kildare among strangers. Her son, Luke McKittrick, a substantial farmer in Fayette county, went to Ireland in the early eighties and brought his mother to this country to spend the remainder of her years. She was then nearly 80 years of age, and it was not thought that her days would be many in the land to which she had emigrated in her old age. But she lived on, and when she passed the century mark Fayette county turned out to do her honor. After that each recurring birthday was a fête day in this section.

At the Fourth of July celebration in Uniontown last year she was an honor guest. She refused to attend the celebration unless she was ridden in an automobile. She wanted to ride in one of the "new-fangled" conveyances. Her wish was gratified. March 17 last, when her birthday was celebrated, she danced an Irish jig, "to show what a good old Irish woman could do," she said. But her heart longed for old Ireland. Her thoughts turned back to the hills of Dunmurry and the bunks of the Boyne, to the antiquities of Panchestown and Jigglstown, and the other historic spots in Kildare. But little more than a month ago her health failed. Her digestive system seemed to become paralyzed and her mind failed.

She talked of the old home, of the great Curragh common and the sheep that fed on it. She wanted to be back again in the scenes she knew a century ago. She said God had overlooked her and she feared he was looking to let her live forever. This morning, when members of the family went to her room to see how she was getting along, they found her dead. She cut her throat with a carving knife she had taken from the kitchen.

No arrangements have yet been made for the funeral, but it will probably be held Friday, and a great outpouring of the people of Fayette county is anticipated.

HAVE KICK COMING.

Residents of West Jefferson Complain of Turfy Pavement Work.

County Judge Lightfoot was "saying things" yesterday afternoon about the methods employed by contractors who secured the West End pavement contract beyond Fountain avenue on Jefferson street.

"The contractors got this contract some time ago and have started grading," he stated. "They have dug down three feet, caused some of us to take up our fences, while other fences have fallen down from the excavations, and we are in a very sad plight. The contractors have now announced they will not do any more work on this contract for two months."

"I later learned that they have gone to work in another section—the Harahan addition I believe—and I do not think the action is a judicious one. There are residents placed at an inconvenience in the former case and none in the latter."

Telegraph Offices Open.

The Western Union reports direct and regular service with San Francisco today. The Postal also has opened in its old office in that city. Owing to the number of people that have left the city and to the generally disarranged conditions it is sometimes hard to locate people. However, this trouble is being gradually overcome as the people are going to their homes.

A TALE OF THE THIRD GENERATION

By HARRY LEON WILSON

Copyright by Lothrop Publishing Company.

At last the vexatious work was finished, and he was free again. At the end of the final day's work he left the office of Potts in Wall street, and walked up Broadway. He went slowly, enjoying the freedom from care. It was the afternoon of a day when the first summer heat had been felt, and as he loitered before shop windows or walked slowly through that street where all move quickly and most very hurriedly, a welcome little breeze came up from the bay to fan him and encourage his spirit of leisure.

"YOU ARE MISS SPRING?"

At Union square, when he would have taken a car to go the remainder of the distance, he saw Shepler, accompanied by Mrs. Van Gelst and Miss Milbrey, slight from a victoria and enter a jeweler's.

He would have passed on, but Miss Milbrey had seen him and stood waiting in the doorway, while Shepler and Mrs. Van Gelst went on into the store. "Mr. Bines—I'm so glad!"

She stood, flushed with pleasure, radiant in stuff of filmy pink, with little flecks at her throat and waist of the first tender green of new leaves. She was unaffectedly delighted to see him.

"You are Miss Spring?" he said when she had given him her hand—and you've come into all your mother had that was worth inheriting, haven't you?"

"Mr. Bines, shall we not see you now? I wanted so much to talk with you when I heard everything. Would it be impertinent to say I sympathized with you?"

He looked over her shoulder in where Shepler and Mrs. Van Gelst were inspecting a tray of jewels. "Of course not impertinent—very kind—only I'm really not in need of any sympathy at all. You won't understand it; but we don't care so much for money in the west—for the loss of it—not so much as you New Yorkers would. Besides, we can always make a plenty more."

The situation was, emphatically, not as he had so often dreamed it when she should marvel, perhaps regretfully, over his superiority to her husband as a money-maker. His only relief was to belittle the importance of his loss.

"Of course, we've lost everything, almost—but I've not been a bit downcast about it. There's more where it came from, and no end of fun going after it. I'm looking forward to the adventures, I can tell you. And every one will be glad to see me there; they won't think the less of me, I assure you, because I've made a duke here!"

"Surely, Mr. Bines, no one here could think less of you. Indeed, I think more of you. I think it's fine and big to go back with such courage. Do you know, I wish I were a man—I'd show them!"

"Really, Miss Milbrey—"

He looked over her shoulder again, and saw that Shepler was waiting for her.

"I think your friends are impatient."

"They can wait. Mr. Bines, I wonder if you have quite a correct idea of all New York people."

"Probably not; I've met so few, you know."

"Well, of course—but of those you've met?"

"You can't know what my ideas are. I wish we might have talked more—I'm sure when are you leaving?"

"I shall leave to-morrow."

"And we're leaving for the country ourselves. Papa and mamma go to-morrow—and, Mr. Bines, I should have liked another talk with you—I wish we were dining at the Oldakers' again."

He observed Shepler strolling toward them.

"I shall be staying with Aunt Cornelia a few days after to-morrow," Shepler came up.

"And I shall be leaving to-morrow, Miss Milbrey."

"Ah, Bines, glad to see you!" The accepted lover looked Miss Milbrey over with rather a complacent air—with the untroubled confidence of assured possession. Percival fancied there was a look almost of regret in the girl's eyes.

"I'm afraid," said Shepler, "your aunt doesn't want to be kept waiting. And she's already in a fever for fear you won't prefer the necklace she insists you ought to prefer."

"Tell Aunt Cornelia, please, that I shall be along in just a moment."

"She's quite impatient, you know," urged Shepler.

Percival extended his hand. "Good-by, Miss Milbrey. Don't let me detain you. Sorry I shall not see you again."

She gave him her hand uncertainly, as if she had still something to say, but could find no words for it.

"Good-by, Mr. Bines."

"Good-by, young man," Shepler shook hands with him cordially, "and the best of luck to you out there. I shall hope to hear good reports from you. And mind, you're to look us up when you're in town again. We shall always be glad to see you. Good-by!"

He led the girl back to the case where the largest diamonds reposed, chaste on their cushions of royal velvet.

Percival smiled as he resumed his walk—smiled with all that bitter cynicism which only youth may feel to his full poignance. Yet, heartless as she was, he recalled that while she talked to him he had imprinted an indelible mark deliberately upon her full scarlet lips. And now, too, he was forced to confess that, in spite of his very certain knowledge about her, he would actually prefer to have communicated it through the recognized physical media. He laughed again, more cheerfully.

"The spring has gotten a stranglehold on my judgment," he said to himself.

CHAPTER XXVIII
SOME PHENOMENA PECULIAR TO SPRING.

He awoke early next morning, refreshed and intensely alive. With the work done he became conscious of a feeling of disassociation from the surroundings in which he had so long been at home. He was glad the business was off his mind. He would now go the pleasant journey and think on the way.

His trunks were ready for the car; and before he went downstairs his handbag was packed, and the preparations for the start completed.

When, after his breakfast, he read the telegram announcing that the car had been delayed 24 hours in Chicago, he was bored by the thought that he must pass another day in New York. He was eager now to be off, and the time would hang heavily.

He tried to recall some forgotten detail of the business that might serve to occupy him. But the finishing had been thorough.

He ran over in his mind the friends with whom he could spend the time agreeably. He could recall no one he cared to see. He had no longer an interest in the town or its people.

He went aimlessly out on to Broadway in the full flood of a spring morning, breathing the fresh air hungrily. It turned his thought to places out of the grime and clamor of the city; to woods and fields where he might rest and feel the stimulus of his new plans. He felt aloof and sufficient unto himself.

He swung on to an open car bound north, and watched without interest the early quick-moving workers thronging south on the street, and crowding the cars that passed him. At Forty-second street, he changed to a Boulevard car that took him to the Fort Lee ferry at One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street.

Out on the shining blue river he expanded his lungs to the clean, sweet air. Excursion boats, fluttering gay streamers, worked, sturdily up the stream. Little yachts, in fresh-laundered suits of canvas, darted across their bows or slanted in their wakes, looking like white butterflies. The vivid blue of the sky was flecked with bits of broken ice, scurrying like the yachts below. Across the river was a high-towering bank of green inviting him over its summit to the languorous freshness beyond.

He walked off the boat on the farther side and climbed a series of steep wooden stairways, past a tiny catamaran that foamed its way down to the river. When he reached the top he walked through a stretch of woods and turned off to the right, down a cool shaded road that wound away to the north through the fresh greens of oak and chestnut.

When he came to a village with an electric car clanging through it, he skirted its borders and struck off through a woodland toward the river. Even the village was too human, too modern, for his early-pagan mood.

In the woods he felt that curious thrill of stealth, that impulse to cautious concealment, which survives in man from the remote days when enemies beset his forest ways. On a southern hillside he found a dogwood tree with its blossomed firmament of white stars. In low, moist places the violets had sprung through the thatch of leaves and were singing their purple beauties all unheard. Birds were nesting and squirrels chattered and scolded.

Under these more obvious signs and sounds went the steady undertone of life in root and branch and unfurling leaf—provoking, inciting, making lawless whomsoever it thrilled.

OUT IN GRAVES COUNTY.
Boy Seriously Kicked By a Horse Near Mayfield.

Mayfield, Ky., May 2.—Elmer Albritton, son of Connelman Albritton, was badly but not seriously injured Saturday afternoon about 3 o'clock at the wagon yard of his father on Seventh and Water streets, by being kicked by a horse. The animal's hoof struck Elmer on the left eye, rendering him unconscious until about 12 o'clock Saturday.

Mr. Moses Conner, living on Mayfield Route 2, has as his guests his daughter Mrs. Stella Anderson of Austin Springs, Tenn., and her children, triplets, all girls. They are about seven months old.

Mr. J. E. Atwood, of this city, is in receipt of a telegram received today, announcing the death of Mrs. G. W. Noblin at Memphis, Tenn. Her remains will be brought here for burial.

Mrs. Jim Drew, wife of the well-known huckster, died Friday at Hickory Grove and was buried Saturday. She was about 35 years old and leaves one child besides her husband.

Exposure
To cold draughts of air, to keen and cutting winds, sudden changes of the temperature, scanty clothing, undue exposure of the throat and neck after public speaking and singing, bring on coughs and colds.

Hallard's Horehound Syrup is the best cure. Mrs. A. Harr. Houston, Tex., writes, January 11, 1902: "One bottle of Hallard's Horehound Syrup cured me of a very bad cough. It is very pleasant to take."

Sold by Alvey & List.

Treasury Vaults Intact.
San Francisco, May 2.—The city officials were highly elated upon finding the contents of the municipal treasury intact. The vaults were located in a section of the city hall that escaped the fire, and when an expert opened the doors Monday morning he found gold, silver and securities scattered over the floor, but there was nothing missing. The vault contained $5,800,000 in coin and currency, $200,000 in securities of the German Savings bank and $12,000,000 of unpaid city bonds.

Growing Aches and Pains.
Mrs. Josie Sumner, Hremond, Tex., writes, April 15, 1902: "I have used Hallard's Snow Liniment in my family for three years. I would not be without it in the house. I have used it on my little girl for growing pains and aches in her knees. It cured her right away. I have also used it for frost bitten feet, with good success. It is the best liniment I ever used." 25c, 50c and $1.00.

Sold by Alvey & List.

Crucifixion for Murderer of Women.
London, May 2.—A dispatch from Mogador, Morocco, to the Daily Mail says that a cobler of Makarez named Meen will be crucified May 3 for the murder of thirty-six women whose bodies were found buried under his shop and in his garden.

To the Traveling Public.
Commencing Sunday, April 29, Illinois Central train 301 will leave Paducah union depot at 6:15 p. m., instead of 7 p. m. This train runs via Cairo and carries the St. Louis sleeper and will connect at Cairo Junction with train No. 8 for Chicago.

J. T. DONOVAN, Agent.

Gail Very Guilty.
Milwaukee, Wis., May 2.—Henry G. Gail, former assistant cashier of the First National bank of Milwaukee, was convicted in the United States district court on nineteen counts out of thirty-four. All the convictions relate to false entries and misappropriation of funds.

A Positive Necessity.
Having to lay upon my bed for 14 days from a severely bruised leg, I only found relief when I used a bottle of Hallard's Snow Liniment. I can cheerfully recommend it as the best medicine for bruises ever sent to the afflicted. It has now become a positive necessity upon myself.

MANY STORMS

ARE PREDICTED FOR THIS MONTH BY PROF. HICKS.

These Disturbances Are to Be More and Severe Than Usual for May.

Prof. Hicks says in his weather predictions for May that there are to be more than the usual disturbances for the month—in fact he rather indicates the stormy month is to be an ugly one. He foretold that the month was to come in on the wings of a storm on the 2d and last night's light wind and good rain, etc., verified the promises as to this section at least. He adds: "It is to be once grow warm, for the season, and continue until after storm of rain, wind and thunder about the 4th and 5th, will pass from west to east at this time. "From 8th to 12th a series of storms will sweep most parts of the country, progressively from west to east. Tornadoes are probable at this period. Rapid change to, westerly gales and much cooler will follow this series of storms, and frosts will visit many central to northern sections from the 10th and 14th. It is entirely possible and probable that violent to dangerous storms may appear about the 14th, 15th and 16th. Some of these storms will approach the dignity of cyclones and much damage will result.

"A regular storm period runs from the 19th to the 23rd. This promises to be the most active to violent period in May. Very warm, humid atmosphere and electrical storms of marked severity will prevail at the first and continue to the end of this period. All through the central part of May there is great tendency at the storm periods to daily cycles of storms, for a number of days in succession, breaking up as a rule with a general, and very violent storm. This period, the 19th to the 23rd, promises to bring one of these cycles. The danger days are the 21st, 22nd and 23rd.

"A reactionary storm is due on the 26th, 27th and 28th. The period extending from the 19th to the 23rd will not only bring a continued daily cycle of rain, wind and thunder storms, but these daily storms will hardly reach their culmination and come to an end until about Saturday, Sunday and Monday, the 26th, 27th, and 28th. A decided change to cooler will spread over the country generally at the wind up of these storms.

"The last day of May is the beginning of a regular storm period which will express itself during the opening days of June. The outlook for June is exceptionally threatening and a general maximum of electrical storms, with many seismic and volcanic disturbances are among the pre-eminent probabilities."

No Pockets for the Girls.

(Louisville Courier-Journal.) The proprietors of a Peoria department store has issued an order that hereafter the young ladies employed by him shall wear dresses without pockets. He has experienced certain losses from penitence, and while he does not say that the girls have carried off any of his property, he considers that it is best to make some rules with reference to the matter.

It has generally been recognized that a mere man is not a competent judge of what women shall or shall not wear and that any effort of his in such a direction is an impertinence. Accordingly, we are told that at noon of the day that the order was issued twenty of the girls gave up their places on the ground that they did not propose to have such insinuations made in regard to their honesty.

We suppose it is possible for men at the head of great institutions to find employees who will agree to be bound by the rules of the establishment. But how is such a rule to be enforced? How will the proprietor know whether the girls have pockets in their dresses or not? The average man certainly does not know whether a lady has or has not pockets. The lady herself is often at a loss to find the pocket which she knows exists. The proprietor of the store must accept the statement of an employee whether there is a pocket in her dress. No doubt this statement will ordinarily be correct, but only in the case of those who will not make improper use of a pocket. The employee who desires to use a pocket to conceal stolen goods will, of course, say she has none, and how will the proprietor know whether she is telling the truth or not? He is likely to realize that he has attempted the impossible.

CAROLITES FRIENDLY

ODD FELLOWS AND REBEKAHS DON'T LIKE JOINERS' MOVE.

Many Participated in Paducah Celebration and Don't Encourage the Disruption Idea.

Calro, Ill., May 2. —Another circular has been received from F. T. Joiner, former president of the Inter state Odd Fellows' Association, in which he says:

"The Odd Fellows and Rebekahs of Southern Illinois will meet in Carbondale May 10 to celebrate. The grand master of the state of Illinois, Brother W. R. Humphrey, will be here. He has telegraphed us that he will positively be with us. We will have a good program. There will be plenty of music, speeches, degree work and other things to entertain the visiting brothers and sisters. Murphysboro, Anna, DuQuoin, Carrierville, Herrin, Marion and other large lodges will be present. They are already making preparations to come. There will be reduced rates on the railroad. We are going to organize The Southern Illinois Odd Fellows Anniversary Association. We will elect officers and select a place to meet next year. Come, and let us give our grand master a great ovation and show him that we appreciate his visit."

But little interest is shown in this movement by Odd Fellows of Calro. They are not inclined to allow themselves to be drawn into the muddle which resulted from the attempt to postpone the recent Paducah meeting and as they sent a goodly delegation to Paducah, about 60. They may be said to have no sympathy with the Carbondale movement.

As far as can be learned no Calro Odd Fellows will respond to the circular above referred to. There seems to be a strong feeling to have an annual reunion in Calro and let all come who will.

A Tornado in Nebraska.

Omaha, Neb., May 2. —The first tornado of the season in Nebraska occurred late this afternoon in Furnas county, near Oxford. The full extent of the storm is not known, as telephone wires were all carried away. A number of dwellings were destroyed in the country and a number of people are reported injured.

PLAIN FACTS

Cleanliness is accepted as a rule of self-preservation in every reputable brewery.

An experienced brewer would no more boast of the purity of his beer than a gentleman would brag of having washed his face.

Purity signifies nothing more than the absence of foreign matter.

For that reason brewers who do not dare to test the substantial merits of beer always harp on purity.

A really first-class beer must, however not alone be free from self-evident defects, but it must combine all the positive excellencies known to the science of brewing.

THE TRUE TEST IS ALL-ROUND QUALITY which cannot be had without SUPERIOR MATERIALS, PERFECT TREATMENT and AMPLE STORING CAPACITY.

Upon this issue of positive superiority we challenge all competitors.

Of materials we use only the most excellent, regardless of cost. Corn, the one important substitute, which, on account of its cheapness, has been extensively adopted, never enters our brewery.

Our facilities for brewing beer are unequalled.

Our storing capacity of 600,000 barrels doubles any other brewery in the United States, and enables us to store our beer from four to five months.

Facts speak louder than words.

Publicity is the demand of the day.

The consumer is entitled to the truth.

for misery in the back, irregular catamenial periods, falling feelings, headache, cold hands and feet, dizziness, cramps, nervousness, irritability, and all disorders of the womanly organs or functions. Working girls, in stores, offices and factories, school teachers, houseworkers, etc., who overtax their strength, by standing, lifting, sewing, sweeping, etc., suffer very commonly from diseases peculiar to their sex, and should treat themselves, before their condition becomes dangerous, with that well-known and successful medicine for sick women

WINE OF CARDUI Woman's Relief

"Live or die" writes Sarah G. Butts, the popular school teacher of White Plains, Va., "I feel sure death is no worse than the pains I suffered periodically. My trouble was a female disorder of the severest kind. I had taken so many medicines without relief that I was almost sunk in despair. Four bottles of Cardui gave me relief, and I am stronger now than in fifteen years. Cardui is certainly a panacea for female troubles. May God bless your every effort and broaden your territory until you have reached every suffering woman."

CRIME AND SURGERY.

(From Memphis News-Scholar.) It is no new theory that criminal propensities may often be due to physical defects.

Surgical cases lately reported from Philadelphia and Toledo lift the idea above the plane of mere theory. The connection between the mind and the body is still a mystery, but progressive science shows a connection to be much closer than was even imagined possible a century ago.

It has been common for many years to restore reason, destroyed by injury to the head, by relieving the brain pressure. The nature of the insanity may sometimes even indicate the exact location of the pressure when it is caused not by external injury, but by internal growths.

The Philadelphia case is that of a boy whose skull had been injured by a fall at an early age. The boy had apparently recovered completely from the fall. His physical condition was good and his brain active, but he was an incorrigible rascal. He was heading toward a career in crime, when he fell into the hands of a surgeon. It was found that a depressed bone probably affected the brain, and an operation confirmed this diagnosis. The pressure was removed, and the boy, placed under close observation for several weeks, shows no tendency to relapse into his former willfulness. Instead, he is affectionate, kind and good.

A similar case in Toledo has had the same result, and it is established that, some times at any rate, wickedness is a disease resulting from causes entirely physical and can be cured by the knife and saw.

The penitentiaries and jails offer a fruitful field for further experiment.

Meet This Afternoon.

The board of works will hold its regular meeting this afternoon. It has a good deal of business on hand, with all the street work, new pavements, storm water sewers, fills and work of such character.

THE POPE ON WOMEN IN POLITICS.

A Vienna dispatch to the London Standard quotes Fraudent Tholme, who has just returned from Rome where she interviewed the pope as follows:

"I asked the Holy Father whether he approved of the movement in favor of woman's rights.

"Certainly I do," he answered. "In so far as it does not conflict with the morals of Christianity. We must all work, I assure you. I work very hard, and why should not women work?"

When asked regarding the entrance of women into the profession, his holiness said:

"Women ought to pursue tranquilly all studies, except, of course, theology. Let them become advocates and doctors, especially the latter. In medicine women have a wide field open to them, in the care of women and children; but there is one field especially in which women ought to be employed by public as well as private enterprises, and that is the care of the poor."

"When I approached his holiness," the lady declared, "on the subject of politics he expressed the most decided opinion against women's participation. 'Ah, no. Women in parliament!' he exclaimed. 'That would be too much. Men alone make confusion enough, without women. No, no, no.' His holiness accompanied this with an energetic pantomime of his hands. He resumed: 'The direct influence of women in politics I can understand. Women should influence those with whom they come in contact to vote rightly, and should educate their sons to fit them for their duties as good citizens; but political women, ah, no. But in the betterment of the lot of the working classes in the peace movement and in the Anti-Duelling League, in all these of these women can work to the glory of God and the good of mankind.'"
